

Map plan for recycling collection points

23 June 2022

A map showing all local recycling collection points around Aylsham is being considered by the group as well as new recycling sites for more materials through the Terracycle <
<https://www.terracycle.com/en-GB/> > scheme.

The first of these is expected to be a toothbrush collection point at St Michael's church. Michael Dolling and Rev Canon Julie Boyd are overseeing the scheme.

The popular Quaker refill stall has been bringing the recycling bins from the church to their farmers' market stand to promote this further (bins for glasses, printer cartridges, stamps, batteries). It was suggested there should be information on each bin to say where the items go and what happens to them.

Anna Dolling is speaking to all the food retailers in the town about their food waste and compiling a list of the information as well as schemes that distribute unsold food.

Ideas for the Green Day event in September, included a game for people to match where to put certain items for recycling.

Next meeting: Monday 18 July, 7pm Aylsham Parish Church
